RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Full Time Research Fellow

Duke Kunshan University

02/2026 – 02/2027

Prof. Yucheng Jin | Hybrid Interactive Intelligence (HII) Lab

Led the Mindful Scroll project – studies short-form video behavior and evening reflection dialogues as signals of user stress/anxiety; designed signal-aware interventions for healthier usage.

- Independently built Mindful Scroll — a React-based, Dockerized Douyin-style platform linking interaction logs with users' well-being and reflection data.
- Ran a pilot study (N=32), identified a four-trace behavioral usage cluster associated with stress and anxiety
- Built a mixed-method analysis pipeline (GPT-assisted topic modeling, longitudinal modeling: logistic regression, tree-based models, time-series) linking micro-interactions to stress/anxiety signals.
- Presented at DMH conference 2026, preparing manuscripts for IP&MC and CHI 2027.

Summer Research Intern

City University of Hong Kong

06/2026 – 08/2026

Professor. Ray LC | Studio for Narrative Spaces

Misinformation Sharing: investigates how platform mechanisms shape users' decisions to share, report, or skip misinformation on social media.

- Led front-end implementation of a simulated social media platform for an A/B behavioral experiment comparing treatment versus control comment conditions.
- Built a feed-based experimental interface supporting randomized condition assignment and behavioral outcome logging for repost, share, report, and skip decisions.
- Contributed to stimulus curation and data collection, co-authoring a CHI 2027 full-paper manuscript.

Research Intern

Tsinghua University

12/2025 – 02/2027

Dr. Jie Cai | Pervasive HCI Group

Project 1: CoSim

- Analyzed dialogue logs from CoSim, an LLM-mediated training platform for university peer supporters.
- Built a trajectory–then–thematic pipeline across 10 supporters and 19 sessions to trace emotion, self-disclosure, and resistance across turns and contrast facilitative versus hindering sessions.
- Identified communication patterns, surfacing supporters' blind spots in emotionally sensitive conversations and informing simulation-based feedback design.
- Co-authored a manuscript, currently under preparation for submission.

Project 2: HarmonyOS Developer Forum

- Explored the help-seeking and tooling discourse in the Huawei HarmonyOS developer community to identify research-ready themes.
- Designed a crawl and topic-modeling pipeline, mapping topics against developer-community literature.

Independent Researcher

Data Analysis Course Project

2022 Spring

Instructor: Prof. Kitty Kay Chan | Columbia University

- Analyzed 200,000+ Yelp restaurant reviews using text mining, bigram analysis, sentiment scoring, and decision tree modeling to identify pandemic-related themes and their relationship with restaurant review ratings.

Independent Researcher

Capstone Project

2022 Fall

Instructor: Prof. Cesar Koirala | Columbia University | Industry Partner: Sandler Training Company

- Analyzed 479 surveys using clustering, classification, and random forest models to identify drivers of user satisfaction and ROI.
- Evaluated survey instrument design and developed a revenue–growth–sentiment segmentation framework to identify high-value user groups.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Frontend Developer Intern

Beijing Puppy Agent Technology Co., Ltd.

08/2024 – 12/2024

- Developed an enterprise RAG-based workflow platform, designing a hybrid ReactFlow state management architecture -- cutting workflow creation time from 2 hours to 30 minutes.
- Built a node framework with automated edge generation; integrated Monaco Editor with rich-text components to improve viewing and editing experience.
